Staff empowered to direct board members, community partners or tenants to the website, as opposed to spending time pulling files, faxing, copying or emailing

Helped move to a more "paperless" office, cutting down shredding, paper and copying costs

Provided an archive for sensitive board documents, including financial statements, loan reports, and board meeting information

▶▶ The Challenge

The Missoula Area Economic Development Corporation (MAEDC) was looking for a more efficient way to communicate with their many business partners.

▶▶ The Solution

The ability to post information in a single location with SuiteFin became incredibly helpful to MAEDC. It enables staff to direct board members, community partners or tenants to their website, as opposed to spending time pulling files, faxing, copying or emailing. It also helps the office to be more "paperless", which cuts down on shredding, paper and copying costs. In short, SuiteFin and its Enterprise Manager saves MAEDC time and money.

The Enterprise Manager has also allowed MAEDC to archive sensitive documents for easy board access, including financial statements, loan reports, and board meeting information, as well as to provide information for board meetings, workshops and other gatherings well in advance. MAEDC plans to utilize this tool to post confidential HR information for staff, lease agreements for tenants, and are developing an area of the website for regional economic developers. The Enterprise Manager has helped MAEDC improve communication with business partners, and bridge some common communication gaps that occur on projects involving multiple parties.

“As a membership-based organization, communication is critical to our operations. In the same breath, however, discretion with sensitive information is necessary for many of our projects. SuiteFin Enterprise Manager has helped our organization to find a practical balance between the two.”

– Jessica Allred-Meyers, Economic Development Specialist

“What we love about SuiteFin is its capacity for growth; it allows us the freedom to develop our website for an unending number of projects, and helps us to more closely involve those participating.”
